THE VISIBLE WORLD

IS BUT MAN TURNED INSIDE OUT

The curriculum of the world is created by man — it reflects his emotions, his intelligence, his abilities, and his limitations. It is a gauge of all human activity. It is man — turned inside out.

What man creates, good or bad, and what man destroys, profit or misery, form the visible world.

In this cursed world, living expenses skyrocketed and political sabotage surfaced. War in the Middle East ignited and an energy crisis added the population.

Realizing that today man is the only answer. The advanced students came face-to-face with the present turmoil. They explored opposing view points and ideas by utilizing new learning concepts and methods.

Individual discovery and experience forced students to re-establish priorities and to challenge the contradictions of our time.

We have more time savers and are in a bigger hurry.

We have more morality and more immorality.

We have more medicine and more disease.

We have more sanitation and more filth.

We have more peace and more war.

We have more success and more boredom.

We have more education and more ignorance.

Man's achievement depends not only on his ability to create, but his ability to live with his creation. Examination of man's world reveals right and wrong — and himself.

NO DEPOSIT,

As man's technology increased and the world's distances decreased, Americans found themselves taking what they could when they could. In an effort to kick the habit, Hazelwood joined the nation in an assessment of priorities and discovered a desire to contribute.

Students, concerned with world and local problems, consumed knowledge in order that they might produce solutions.

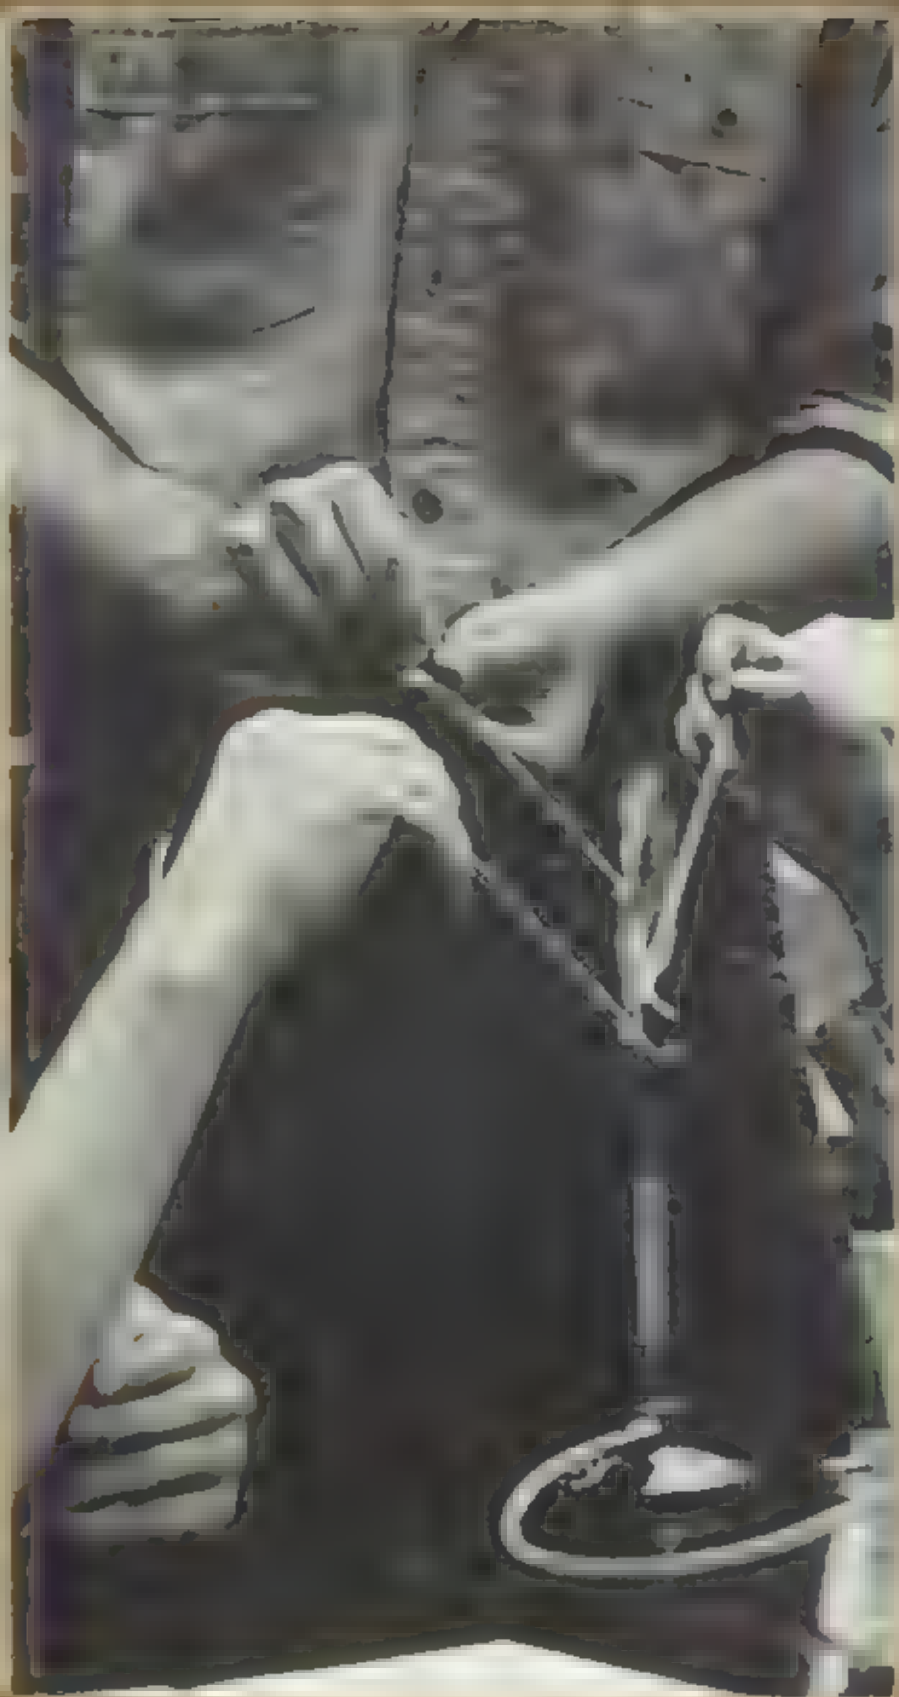

School clubs discarded their traditional rah-rah approach and concentrated on pitching in for social betterment.

While consumer advocate Ralph Nader investigated auto safety and tax procedures, students conducted paper drives and charity collections. Giving their all and taking new responsibilities, today's youth acknowledged that every man is a consumer and ought to be a producer.

NOT A NATION BUT

A nation is greatness, and people were amazed by problems this year: debt, rampant corruption, a falling stock market, rampant inflation, and unemployment will be close to home. Government officials spoke out on controlling, biased news coverage, while the media cried freedom of the press. The President claimed Executive Privilege and the public asked: How far does it go? Hollywood students watched a federal administration fall from power. This election is an astounding low in popularity. White House officials and advisers, including the Vice-President, were convicted of felonies, and the nation witnessed the scuttling strain on the President himself. Many looked upon the situation as the destruction of the nation. But the optimistic viewed it as the ultimate test: whether a government can, by and for the people, cleanse itself; and, truly, whether that government can survive.

Mrs. Helen Bridgeman

Sixteen-year journalism adviser named to administrative position

When Mrs. Helen Bridgeman arrived at Hazelwood in 1958, she took on the task of building the school's first journalism curriculum. A teacher of English IV, her aim was to improve the quality of the Hawk Talk and the Torch.

School publications were, at that time, an extracurricular activity of NHS, and due to the many activities of most NHS members, the work fell largely on Mrs. Bridgeman, who not only wrote most articles, but took 75 per cent of the photographs.

Journalism was nothing new to Mrs. Bridgeman, who worked for KMOX radio after receiving her degree from the University of Missouri.

After leaving the radio, marrying and raising two children, she decided to return to school and obtain a degree in education, which eventually brought her to Hazelwood.

Attending a summer yearbook workshop shortly after her arrival, Mrs. Bridgeman developed new ideas which significantly altered the Torch. Using graphics for the first time, the layout was arranged much like that of a magazine. Such features as the "Class Will" and "Senior Most" were omitted, in favor of more important activities.

Since that time, the Torch has grown from a 100-page book to the largest high school yearbook in the nation, boasting 360 pages.

Due to her new position as Hazelwood Communications Coordinator, the 1974 Torch is the first edition in 16 years which she has not sponsored. Although she did not sponsor this edition, this 20th anniversary issue of the Torch and all which follow will serve as a reminder of, and as a tribute to Mrs. Helen Bridgeman.

Back-to-school activities greet 5,400 students

On September 5, the doors opened wide to welcome approximately 5,400 students. Boasting the largest enrollment ever, Hazelwood set out to make each person feel like an individual. In doing so, it confronted students with several changes.

One large phase of registration was eliminated — that of paying fees. Still, the process of registration and bewilderment to the students and counselors whose schedules were topsy-turvy with missing classes, alternating schedules, and overlapping lunch

After the initial processes involved in getting a free public education were complete, students faced the beckoning corridors with the traditional blues of spending another nine months cooped up in classrooms with boring teachers, dull classes, and two-hour homework assignments. But for the student with initiative and school spirit, Hazelwood had thought-provoking subjects, stimulating activities, and competitive sports.

The bustle of signing up for clubs, making new friends, and studying new subjects is what Hazelwood had to offer. With more than 30 clubs and organizations, a choice of some 250 courses, and 5,400 fellow classmates, even the shyest sophomore found his

Homecoming '73 links tradition with contemporary fall festivities

Homecomings are traditional, yet each Homecoming remains as unique as the people who create it. This year's fall festivities were set to the theme of an "Underwater Fantasy" as Hazelwood students created their 1973 Homecoming weekend.

Colorful floats reflected the ocean's treasures as the Homecoming Parade travelled its Saturday morning route. The Concert Choir's entry in the float competition, "Clam the Rams" was awarded first place by judges, while court maids and cheerleaders were seated in convertibles to prepare for the windy excursion.

The gridiron was the focus of afternoon attention as the Hawks battled the Riverview Rams, but the excitement reached its peak when Ruth Delaney was announced queen at half-time ceremonies.

The day was concluded with an evening under the sea" at the annual Homecoming Dance. An oyster shell throne, complemented by murals depicting underwater sea life, set the stage for coronation of the fantasy's queen.

It took two varsity cheerleading squads to handle Hawk spirit during the athletic campaign.

Starting with the varsity spirit leaders worked as cheerleaders during the football season. Then they were faced with the heavy winter schedule. The squad divided into two groups for cheering at basketball and wrestling events.

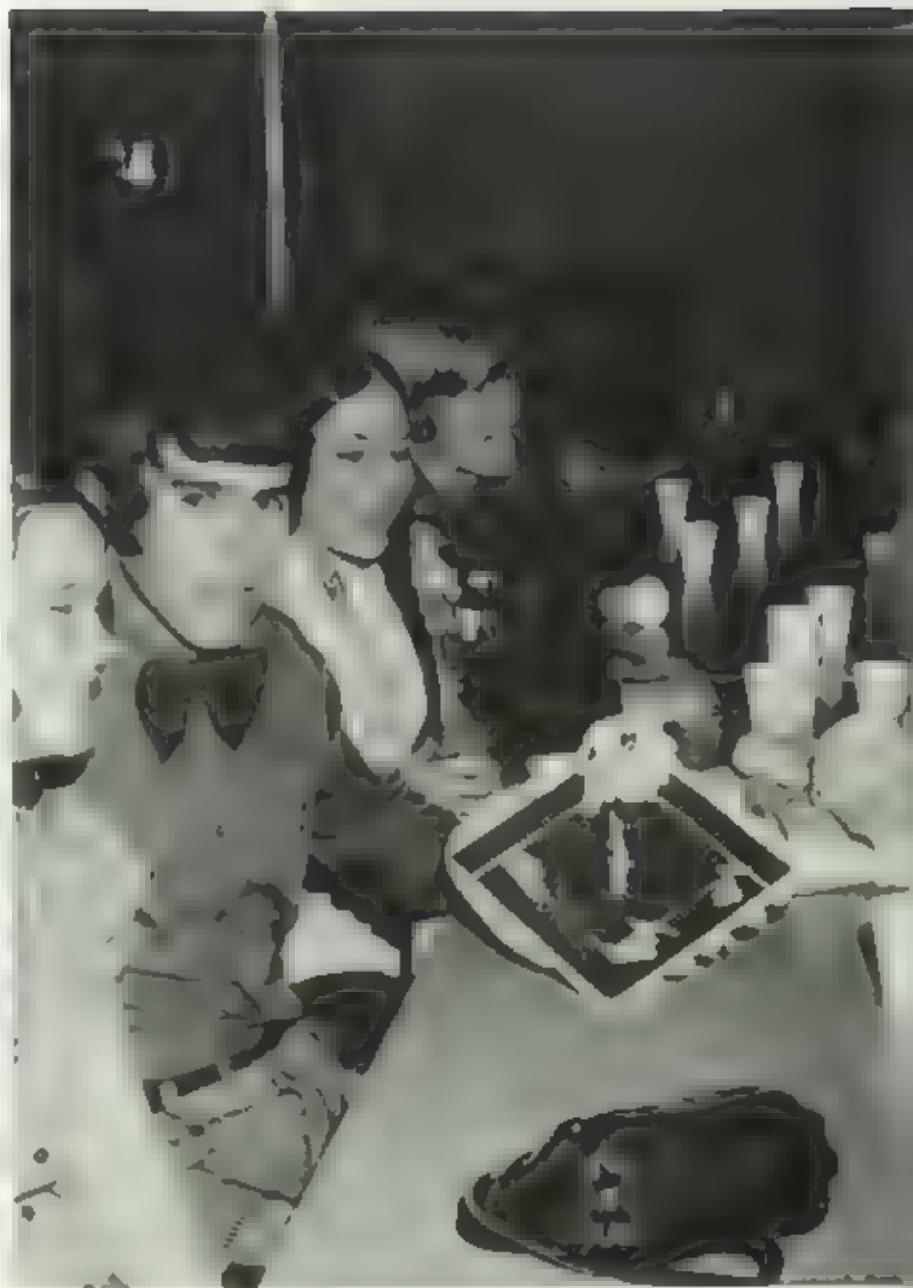

Captained by Ruth Delaney and Terry Waxman, the cheerleaders won three state and five national titles, plus the spirit stick at the National Cheerleading Association state champion in Massachusetts.

THE STUDENT WORKSHOP THEATRE
PRESENTS

Innocent murderess tricks crowd in SWT production of 'Bad Seed'

Good does not always triumph over evil as was shown in the Student Workshop Theatre's fall production Bad Seed.

The play concerned a young girl named Rhoda Penmark who had inherited murderous traits from her grandmother. The plot centered on her obsessions with a penmanship medal that Rhoda's school teacher awarded to Claude Daigle, one of Rhoda's classmates. Claude was found dead shortly thereafter.

Director Don Muench, drama and speech instructor, was pleased with the production. "This kind of show generates a lot of enthusiasm for both cast and crew. I was pleased with the audience's responses on the comment cards we provided for them."

Mr. Muench continued, "The technical crews put together a good set under the supervision of Larry Price and they benefited much from his experience. The cast worked hard and faithfully and was extremely close knit. It was both a financial and emotional success."

Senior Dave Miller added a musical note to the Hazelwood stage by performing an original composition which dealt with the play's theme.

Top Posters put up by the Thespians dotted the halls of Hazelwood to announce the coming of Bad Seed.

'Three-in-one' Student Council shows involvement

In its last year as a "three-in-one" Student Council, the 1973-74 Council members took on the task of making their presence known throughout the year with various new projects. Selling "Uncle Larry" T-shirts and co-sponsoring a volleyball marathon with Explorer Post 9043 were among the "firsts" this year. The 48-hour marathon contributed over $600 to the Cancer Society.

Another money-raising project was Home Day, which brought in $100 for the Barry Rhoades Fund. Student Council also sponsored the traditional Homecoming Dance, recruiting enough students to complete decorations in one week. The dance was one of the first to come out in the black. Other projects for the year included a paper drive, Nostalgia Day and new letters for the coming events displayed in front of the school. Before each event, Student Council devoted many hours making signs to publicize the function, in an effort to get students more involved. As in past years, Council sold refreshments for the home football and basketball games.

Bottom The bookstore, open during lunch, is one of the services provided by the National Honor Society.

This year proved to be one of innovative ideas, high membership, and student participation in the National Honor Society.

Several worthwhile projects were undertaken, such as tutoring, open house guiding, and operating the bookstore. A canned food drive was held to benefit the Salvation Army at Christmas time.

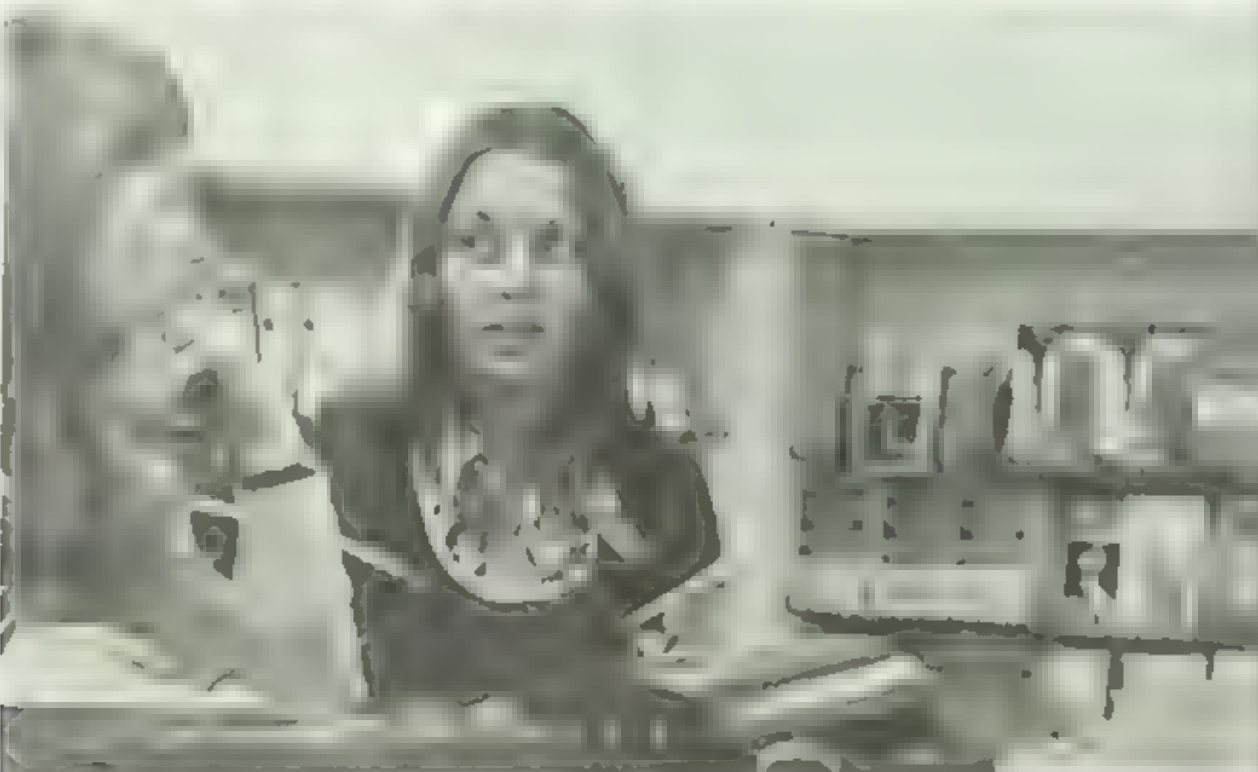

The structure of the club was revised to include committees for scholarship, service, selection process, participation, and social activities.

As a result of these new committees, old members became more involved and more members assumed positions of leadership. A new tutoring system was established and the selection process was improved to allow for a fairer method of determining membership.

The bright spot of the year was the Installation Ball following the traditional installation ceremonies. A record number of 201 students were presented with certificates of membership and letter awards. The Stage Band provided the music for dancing, and a candle light atmosphere set the mood for this first annual event.

The officers, committee chairmen, and enthusiastic members demonstrated that the National Honor Society is not only an organization for scholarly students but rather an active, involved service organization.

Hawk Talk still sounds day-day school atmosphere and personality

Hawk Talk was produced in 1974 that journalism means more than just writing. It means being a part of the school's life. The paper is a reflection of the school's atmosphere and personality. Neatness and disorder characterize Neil Simon's 'The Odd Couple'

Crumpled newspaper, week-old sandwiches, and scattered poker chips set the stage for Hazelwood's Winter Play, The Odd Couple, presented by the Student Workshop Theater. The props crew was kept busy creating the atmosphere necessary for Neil Simon's Broadway hit. "Beer cans exploded and toilets flushed as Oscar Madison and his poker buddies anticipated winning a night's pot — until Felix Unger interrupted. The interruption turned out to be permanent as Felix, the compulsive cleaner moved in with Oscar — the natural slob and quarrels resulted. Oscar finally could not cope with Felix any more and forced him to move out," said Mr. Steven Rascher, director. "I chose to do this particular play because it's my favorite comedy and I always wanted to do it." He added, "The play was easy to do and I was lucky to find boys to fit the parts." This lighthearted comedy, which ran from February 21-23, was a crowd-pleasing sell-out.

Torch staff captures student role in changing society

News throughout 1973-74 has been described as astounding, unexpected, and often as disillusioning. Major events on national and local levels touched Hazelwood as well as the rest of the nation. Changes occurred in all fields, from American foreign policies to Hazelwood school policies.

Events of these years were beyond doubt, unforgettable. And yet, while the events were not to be forgotten, the 1974 Torch staff felt a need to record them and sought to bring these events into perspective with the school year.

Breaking away from traditional styles, the 1974 Torch was planned to cover areas which would engulf a broader scope of a student's life than mere school activities. The student as citizen, and as a member of a rapidly changing society, was the subject of the entire introduction section, created by the editorial boards.

Two classes of School Publications cooperated to form the 1973-74 Torch staff. Each class elected three students to serve on an editorial board with two appointed editors forming two 5-member editorial boards.

Through the combined efforts of these two classes, under the direction of sponsors Mrs. Cheryl Stoller, Mrs. Brenda Cook, and Mrs. Brenda Weinstein, a smooth, workable system was devised to produce the nation's largest high school yearbook, the Hazelwood Torch.

reaps benefits for musicians in instrumental program

Appearance, performance and precision head the list of priorities for this year's instrumental music department. Emphasis was placed on public exposure with hours of practice and hard work leading to many requests to make appearances. And they did appear.

The Orchestra, Varsity and Concert Bands performed at the Christmas and Spring Concerts. The Concert Band also provided music for the annual project fair and entered a local band contest.

The Stage Band played for the National Honor Society Installation Ball, the Variety Show Intermissions and held their annual Pops and Pretzels Concert.

An appearance at Busch Memorial Stadium highlighted the year for the Golden Hawks Marching Band. The GHMB delighted audiences at home football games with their marching drills and spirited music, and also marched in many local parades.

A tribute was made to Mr. Ron Thomas, band director, on his birthday when the 164-member troupe marched right up to his front door playing "Happy Birthday." The group received local television and radio coverage and appeared in metropolitan newspapers.

Spirit stick sets pompon squad into action

The pompons of spirit shook vigorously this year as the Hawkettes performed for fans of home football and basketball games.

For the 40 members of the '74 squad the school year began early last summer when two car washes and a bake sale were held to raise money for new uniforms. Several members of the squad attended the Missouri Valley Pompon Clinic in Marshall, Missouri, where new routines were learned. When the girls returned, they proudly brought back 30 blue ribbons and the first spirit stick ever awarded to the squad.

As a result of many long, hard hours of after-school practice, the precision and fine style, characteristic of the squad, delighted audiences at the activities.

Following in the footsteps of tradition the seniors were presented with corsages at their last group performance.

Pupils, teachers 'turnabout' to learn

Over 300 Hazelwood students found themselves on the other side of the desk when Student Council and FTA sponsored the annual Turnabout Teacher Day on April 10.

While Student Council officers assumed principals' roles and Health Careers Club president Raoul Williams took over the nurses' office, the remaining students replaced librarians and for the most part, teachers.

Each teacher selected an outstanding student to carry out his daily teaching schedule, including preparing a lesson plan for each class, maintaining classroom order and, of course, keeping up with the paper work.

Garters reflect mood of annual turnabout night

Colorful original garters in competition for cash prizes were designed by girls for their dates at the annual Pep Club Letterman Turnabout Dance on March 15.

The dance theme of the "Roaring 20s" influenced the look of many of the garters, while others reflected the mood of the St. Patrick's Day weekend. Judges in the garter competition were Mrs. Sharon Knubey, Coach Robert Stoutler, and Mr. John Hottelader.

While the boys enjoyed their evening as the girls' guests, couples danced to the sounds of "Blastone." Cake and punch were served to guests by members of the Pep Club.

Childhood storybook characters, Raggedy Ann and Andy came to life at Hazelwood when red-haired, rosy-cheeked seniors posed as living dolls for their traditional Senior Dress-up Day.

While red yarn wigs, ribbons, and a big smile were customary for such an occasion, many seniors used some ingenuity and donned their pinafore aprons, suspender shorts, and striped socks.

Original Raggedy Ann and Andy dolls accompanied many of the masqueraders through their usual routine of classes and lunch.

The Dress-up Day was organized by School C Senior Class President, Tammy Bryan, who commented, "I think the Dress-up Day can be a really fun experience for anyone who takes the time to participate. It has shown that there is still such a thing as spirit in the class of '74."

AFS recreates days long past at Variety Show

Norfolk College students and faculty members brought a variety show to the campus last night, recreating the days of the Great Depression.

The show, which was presented by the AFS (American Friends Service) committee, was a variety of acts, including a musical, a play, and a comedy.

The musical, "The Great Depression," was a story of a family struggling to survive during the hard times. The play, "The Day After Tomorrow," was a comedy about a man who is stranded in a remote location.

A comedy was also presented, "The Great Depression," which was a story of a family struggling to survive during the hard times. The play, "The Day After Tomorrow," was a comedy about a man who is stranded in a remote location.

The show was a success, and the students and faculty members were very proud of their work. The show was a great way to raise money for the AFS committee, and it was a great way to entertain the students and faculty members.

Tunes from Bach to Bacharach echoed in the halls of Hazelwood as six unique vocal groups prepared for numerous performances.

Throughout the year choirs provided entertainment to fit almost every preference.

Concert Choir lightened hearts during Christmas and Spring with music appropriate for the seasons. The group also took the spirit of Christmas to elderly patients when they caroled at Fontaine Woods Nursing Home.

Madrigal, 16 a capella singers chosen on the basis of merit from the Concert Choir, highlighted their season with the presentation of classical hymns at the Christmas concert.

The more diversified vocal groups, Girls Choir, Boys Glee Club, and Sophomore Choir, chose to perform modern crowd-pleasing hits of today. Boys Glee Club also introduced a new note at the spring concert by including the old sounds of a barbershop quartet singing "Lida Rose."

800 follow the yellow brick road over the rainbow to Emerald City

Over 800 students donned formal wear and followed the yellow brick road to Hazelwood when the theme for the 1974 Junior-Senior Prom was the "Land of Oz."

Guests entered through Dorothy's Kansas farmhouse and travelled over the rainbow to the Land of Oz.

While murals displayed scenes from the Emerald City, Dorothy, Tin Man, Scarecrow, and other Oz characters greeted guests to complete the fantasy originally created in Frank L. Baum's novel.

Though most students wore the traditional tuxedos and formal dresses, it was stressed that Prom was a semi-formal affair, and many arrived in semi-formal attire.

When not dancing to the sounds of "The Fat Man," Oz's well-dressed guests enjoyed refreshments consisting of finger sandwiches, hors d'oeuvres, cake and punch served by Munchkins. All eyes were on the entrance to Emerald City at center stage as Sue Abuchon and Chuck Smiley were crowned Queen and King at the evening's coronation.

Gamblers, missionaries create Broadway atmosphere

Gamblers and missionaries joined forces for a six-night run, to recreate Broadway in the 'fifties' for Hazelwood audiences

Damon Runyon's Guys and Dolls revolves around two bizarre romances between colorful characters of the era. Nathan Detroit, organizer of the local floating crap game, is in his fourteenth year of engagement to night club singer-dancer, Miss Adelaide, while Sky Masterson, also a big-time gambler, is attempting to capture the fancy of Save-a-Soul missionary, Sarah Brown.

The marriage dilemma for both couples is finally resolved. As Sky mends his sinning ways, he wins the heart of Sarah and makes her his bride. Nathan finally resorts to tying the knot with Adelaide and in the finale, the entire cast joins in the happy occasion.

Escapades of the guys and gals were directed, produced, and choreographed by Miss Suzanne La Tour with the assistance of senior Mary Kluge, student director.

Three months of planning and rehearsal by a 100 member cast and crew produced the Spring Musical successfully. The 25-piece orchestra directed by Miss Linda Oppland, provided accompaniment to both song and dance.

Regional defeat for Hawk harriers kills chance to compete for state title

Hopes of a state title were shattered this year for the cross country team as the Hawks met a disappointing defeat at the Regional Tournament.

Beginning the season with first place victories at the Fort Capron and Edwardsville Invitations, the Hawks looked forward to a successful season. With the talents of five returning veterans, Jim Brocksmith and Joe Vanich, co-captains, John Dwyer, Bob Ryan, and Kevin Lytle, the entire squad placed first at the Southern North Conference and North District meets.

With these successes under their belt, the Hawks entered the Regional Tournament optimistic. A bad day's weather would not dampen their hopes of victory as the team had qualified for the competition.

Jim Brocksmith won the 4x4 mile relay and a complete team victory by finishing first in the 4x4 mile relay. Hornsied and Dwyer.

Although the season ended abruptly, the Hawks posted an impressive record. The points recorded in the cross country season.

'Team to beat' ends disappointing 3-4-2 season

It is difficult to follow a champion. And so it was for the defending Missouri Class 4A titleholders who were pegged as "the team to beat" at the offset of the '73 campaign.

By posting a 3-4-2 overall record, the gridmen ranked a disappointing fourth in the Suburban North Conference and visions of a repeat performance of the '72 season were shattered. High hopes were dampened early in the season when Belleville East tied the Hawks 28-28 in the last minutes of the season opener. Frustration followed frustration when the Hawks took on the rival Central Tigers at Cape Girardeau and were handed a 15-12 defeat.

When conference play began, the gridmen, paced by quarterback Greg Cypret and split end Mike Summers, easily defeated St. Charles and Ritenour, 36-0 and 34-14, respectively.

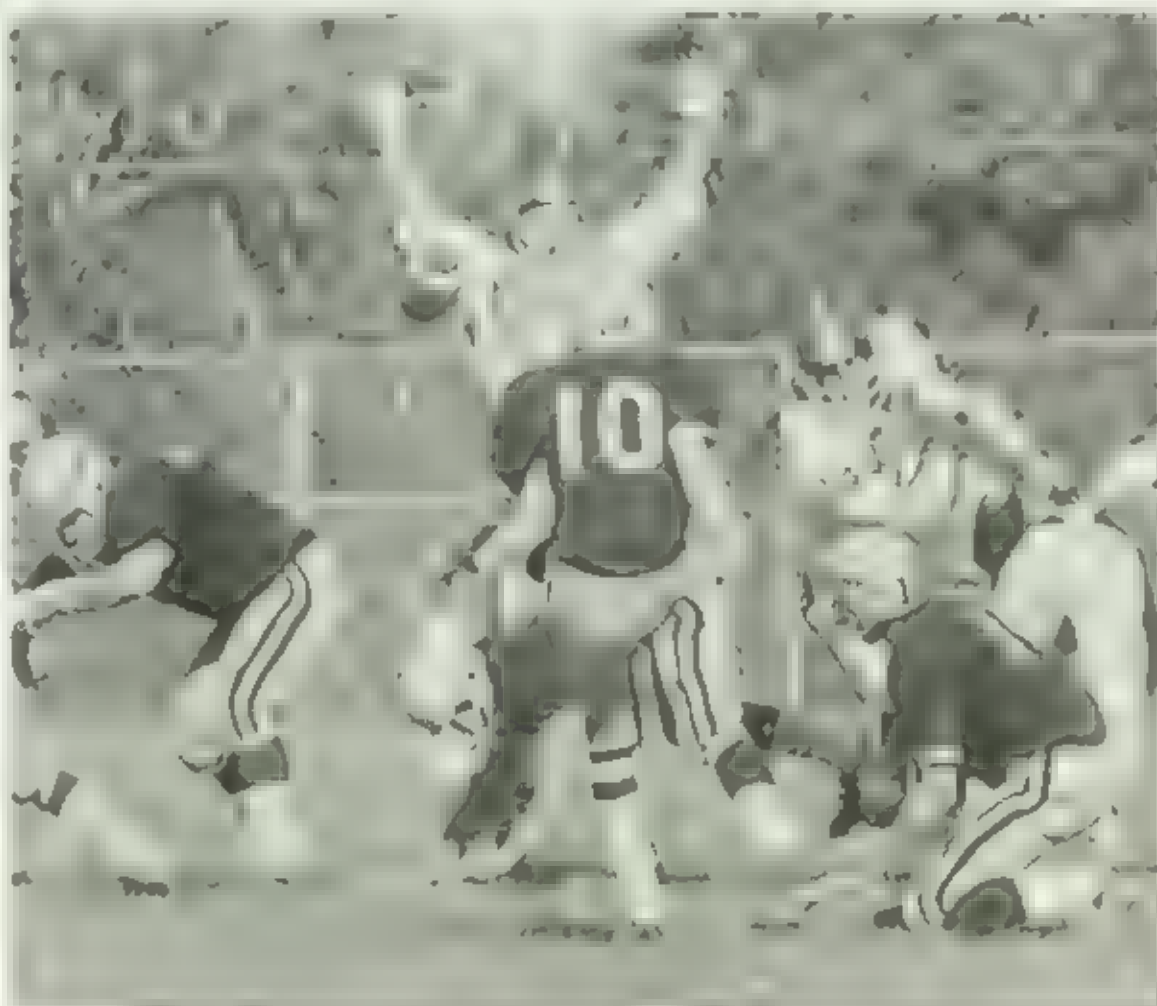

In later action, the Hawks were stunned by Pattonville 46-35 and then succumbed to Riverview 37-20 at the Homecoming game. The squad dazed McCluer North with a late minute razzle dazzle play executed by Cypret and running back John Curia which resulted in a 26-24 Hawk victory. The next week the gridmen fell to powerful McCluer 24-21.

In the closing contest, the Hawks tied conference champion Normandy 14-14 and ended the season the same way it

'73 gridmen boast thirteen league all-stars

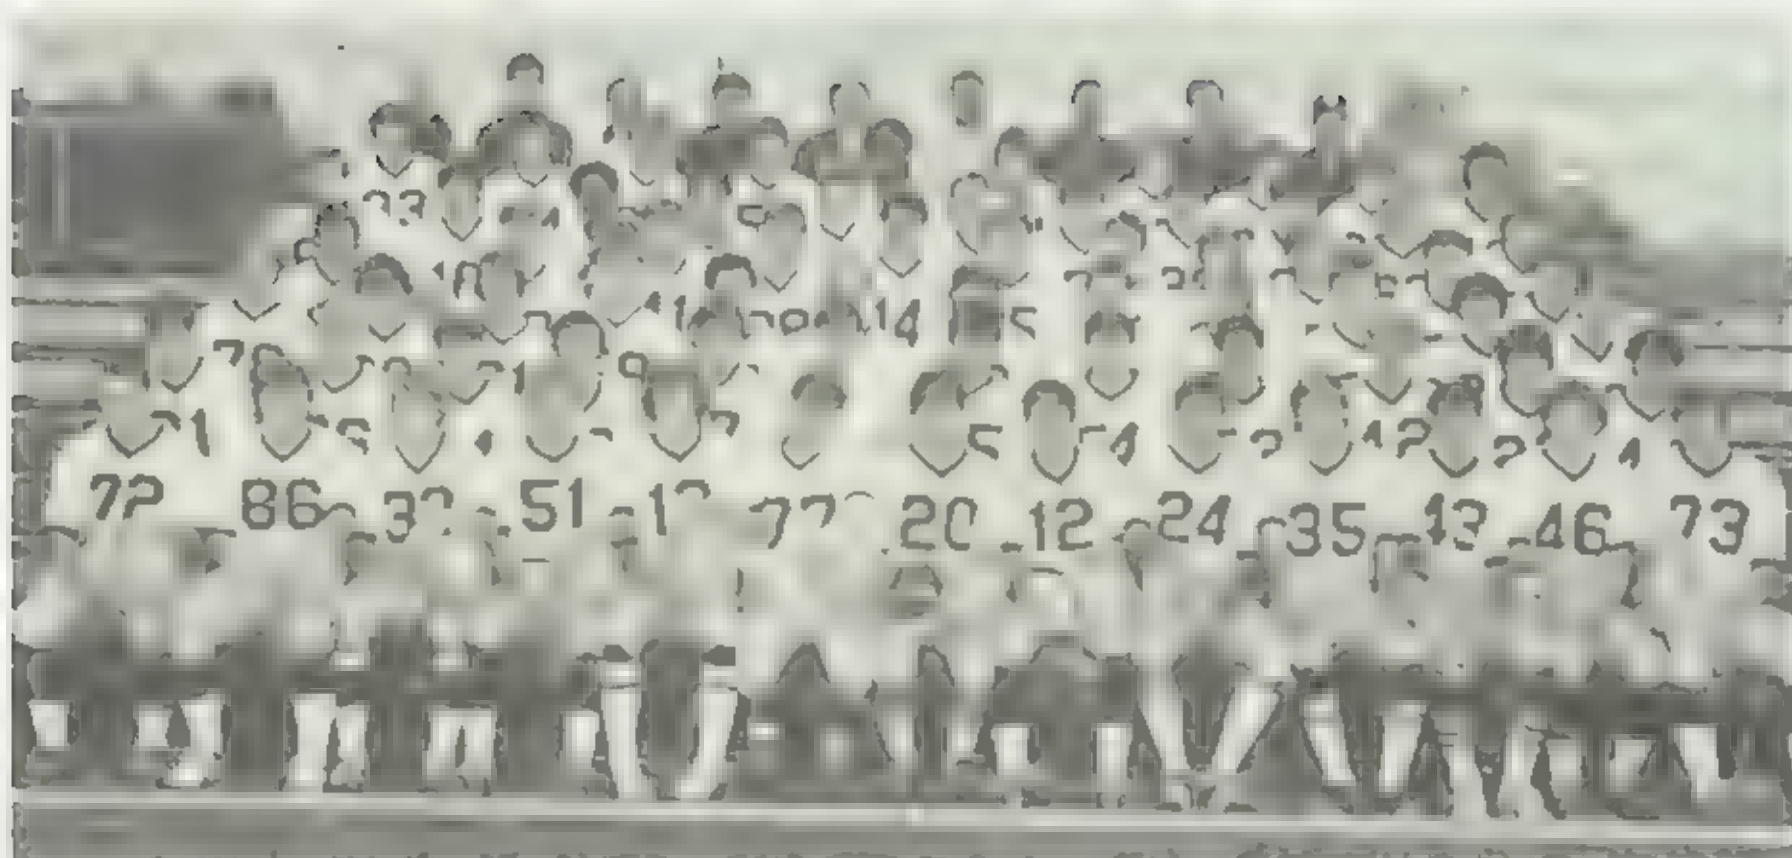

Every athletic team has its outstanding members. The '73 Hawk footballers were no exception as thirteen members received the honor of placement on the Suburban North All Conference team.

Senior Milt Galucia was selected to be on second team offense.

Those receiving honorable mention were halfback Ron Parker, halfback Paul Davis, end Jack Hayden, tackle Bill Rinke, tackle Stuart Potts, safety Robb Howard, and end Paul Heidenreich.

Soph grid teams and records go in three directions

Winning, losing and breaking even marked the first year of becoming Hazelwood B Hazelwood C and Hazelwood D in sophomore interscholastic sports

Finishing the season 3-4-1, B school footballers played an average season boasting victories over Country Day McCluer North, and Hazelwood School D

School C gridmen can grin with the best of the trio's records by winding up with five wins and three losses Oakville Pattonville, Riverview, McCluer, and Normandy fell victim to the power of the Hawks who enjoyed a fine latter half by winning four of their last five games

School D teammates meanwhile found themselves struggling through a 2-5-1 season The victories were impressive as D schoolers blanked both McCluer and Parkway West as the Hawk gridgers scored over twenty points in each game

Matmen post 6-5 dual record to place third in Suburban North

Eleven junior matmen, led by state champion Harold Ritchie, wrestled their way to a third place tie in the Suburban North Conference with a 6-5 dual meet record.

Hawks Mike Meglio, Pat Quinlisk, Harold Ritchie and Greg Korzep all emerged as regional meet medalists as Ritchie took second with his only loss, going to Northwest Blue Devils Ricky Barnes.

Ritchie's second place finish sent him one week later to the state meet at Forest Park Community College where he revenged his loss to Barnes by defeating him 6-2. His victory earned him the 138-pound championship.

Injuries hampered the team's performance throughout the season as three key members missed most of the season.

All-conference recognition went to Harold Ritchie and Dave Sasche. Ritchie was placed on the first team while Sasche made honorable mention.

The Hawks participated in four tournaments, finishing second in the Pattonville Tournament, fifth in the District Tournament, fifth in the Regional Meet, and thirteenth in state competition.

Roundballers net fourth in league with a 15-8 season

From the home of the North Central basketball state champion McCluer Comets to past the winning Hawks from the spotlight.

Despite a 15-8 season, the Hazelwood Hawks did not have a perfect record. In fact, North Central basketball coach Ed G. Gendron noted that the season was a vast improvement over last year's 5-23 record. McCluer's Comets, and Hawthorn's basketball players, joined the Suburban North Central basketball league to play the season's first game.

The Hawks would not be back and let the other teams back in around. The Hazelwood Hawks started Region play against the second most winning team, the Intervue Rams who had twice beaten the Hawks during the season's play.

At its first game, Hazelwood Hawks started the season in a loss, but at the end of the season, the Hawks lost to the Intervue Rams in the Regionals.

At the Suburban North Central basketball league, the Hawks had a chance to put a 15-8 team in fourth place.

Soph teams prove the odds in cage action

When a school has three sophomore basketball squads odds are that one of those teams will achieve a winning record. Unfortunately, the odds are equally great that one team will have a losing record.

So was the case of Hazelwood's sophs who failed to stymie the odd-makers as B, C, and D, school posted 11-7, 8-10, and 1-16 records respectively.

Leading B school to a winning season were Ron Smith and Phil Carter with point averages of 13.0 and 10.0 respectively.

Commanding C school were Don Howell (13.5) and Jeff Surgeon (11.0). D school sharpshooters were David Siegel (11.5) and Randy Sarason (9.5).

Team spirit sparks kickers to 6-12-3 record

Unity and team spirit was the name of the game for both the varsity and sophomore soccer Hawks as they concluded the '73-'74 season with 6-12-3 and 10-5-5 records respectively.

Highlights of the season were the sophomore shutting out first place McCluer 2-0 and the varsity defeating sixth place Ritenour.

Junior Steve Moyers led the varsity kickers in goals with 9 scored, followed by senior Tom Peters with 5. Top scorers for the sophomores were Tom Welch with 6 and Bill Freeman with 4 goals.

Chosen all-conference first team were junior Steve Moyers and sophomores Bill Freeman, Kevin McNitt, Greg Scatturo and Mike Westcott. Seniors Terry Johns and Marty Sontheimer, and sophomore goalie Lou Zimmer received honorable mention.

The soccer season ended with sophomore Hawks taking second place behind McCluer and the varsity team finishing fifth in the conference.

Athletic females find action with GAA participation

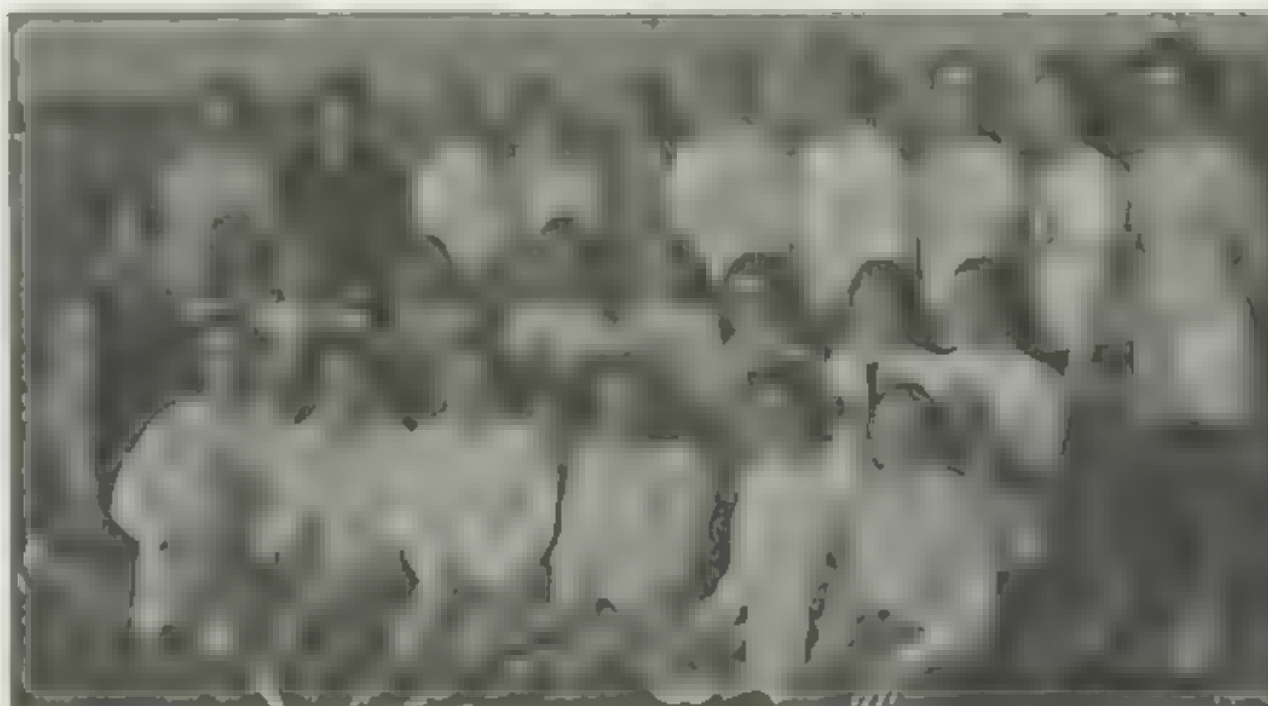

Over five hundred girls spent their afternoons participating in sports sponsored by GAA.

Included in the sports lineup were tennis, field hockey, basketball, volleyball, softball, track and gymnastics.

In between games and practices, upcoming sports events, the girls took time out for other extracurricular activities. They attended the football homecoming pep assembly, the annual Sports Banquet, and sponsored the Student-Daughter volleyball games.

In the fall, the Girls Varsity Basketball team challenged the faculty to a basketball game, which they won.

The girls also participated in the annual GAA Sports Banquet, which was held at the school gymnasium.

The 1973 Baseball Hawks were a good team. The 1974 Hawks were better. In 1973 there were hopes and dreams of a state championship. In 1974 there were photographs. On May 23, 1974 Coach Harry Gurley and his hungry Hawks journeyed to Kansas City to finish the state playoffs. Playoff action so far had favored the Hawks. In five innings the Hawks hitting finished St. Dominick in a game which sent Hazelwood to state semi finals. The next day in Kansas City with the ace pitching of Big Al Olmstead, Hazelwood won 3-2, which pitted Hazelwood against last year's state champions Fox High of Arnold, in the state

The decision was made, the Hawks would use senior pitcher Craig Moeller despite his arm having had only two days rest. The decision proved to be a wise one as Moeller fanned 12 batters and allowed only two hits and in the passing pitched Hazelwood to a 1-0 shut-out victory and a Missouri Class 2A State Championship. 1974 was the last year the Hawks could get a championship of anything. When Craig Moeller pitched that last ball to a Fox High ball player he had ended a whole era in High School athletics. Not only his own but the Hazelwood Hawks as well. What better way to close than with a state championship?

Varsity tennis boasts 12-3 season record

After having lost three of their first four conference meets, the Hawks rallied to beat their last ten opponents and finished with an overall record of 12 wins and 3 losses and a second place in the conference.

At mid-season, the Hawks surprised several teams in the Conference tournament and returned home with a third place trophy.

One week later, Pete Wall, at first singles, qualified for the state tournament in Columbia by winning second in the district.

The talented sophomore lost in the quarter finals at state, but finished his regular season undefeated. Junior Chris Wall, brother of Pete, played second singles and improved throughout the season.

At third singles, Paul Vishnesky razzle-dazzled opponents as one of the few players to make the Varsity team as a freshman. Paul was undefeated in his last ten matches.

At first doubles, Al Ehle, senior, and Steve Minogue, junior, lost only once as a team, and that was to powerful McCluer North. Their most rewarding victory and the team's most exciting upset came at the expense of McCluer. The Comets lost only once, and that was to Hazelwood.

At second doubles, Jim Hofman and Dan Marquart established themselves as a formidable team. Both players are sophomores.

Two other lettermen were Bill Bassett and Dave Smith. Both Bill and Dave were called upon several times for Varsity play.

Sandtrappers win conference with 16-0 mark

With a 16-0 varsity record and a 15-0 junior varsity record, a Suburban North Conference Championship and a second place in the District Tournament, golf Coach Frank Ward explained "There's lots of depth. It's a well balanced team."

Perhaps Coach Ward was referring to the team's four members who averaged under forty strokes while not forgetting four others who averaged forty strokes. Or perhaps he was making reference to the team's ability to pick each other up.

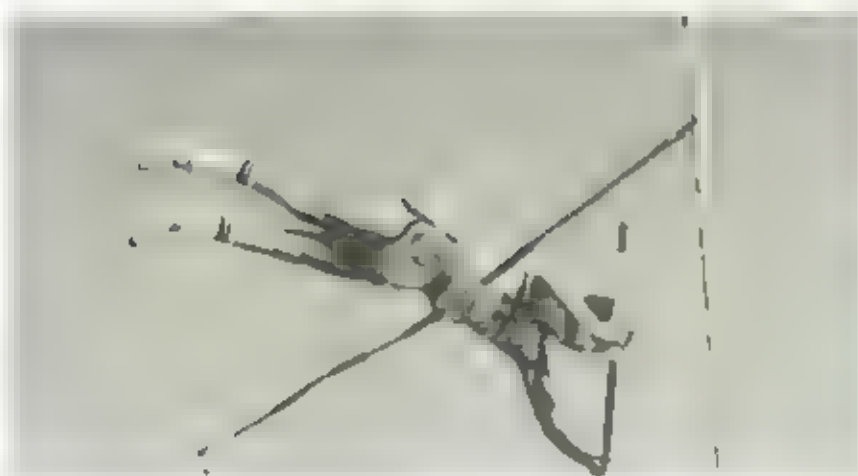

The real key to the team was its depth. The team didn't need to count on a single star player. They all played well and they all played together.

Seniors Steve Murphy, Bill Moretti and Greg Johnson along with juniors Steve Deitz, Mark Stellern, Mike Wallace, and Steve Nahrup and Freshman Paul Truttler lettered the team as they placed a surprising 11th in state competition. Mr. Ward had no excuses.

They just didn't play as well.

Cindermen feel loss of graduates, finish second in conference

Despite the loss of a number of outstanding athletes who graduated last year, the 1974 Hawk cindermen managed to keep a second place pace behind the 1974 state champion Normandy Vikings in conference competition.

The Hawks opened the season at the annual Alton relays finishing fifth overall in a field of 32 schools. The sprint medley relay team of Ron Parker, Mark Flaker, Rick Graete, and Jim Brocksmith broke the eight year old record by clocking an honorable 3:36.2.

In the Suburban North Relays the Hawks finished a mere nine points behind Normandy.

The Conference Meet again proved the Hawks to be second best only to Normandy. On May 18, nine Hazelwood trackmen found themselves at the state meet where they scrounged six points placing them thirteenth in team totals. Mark Flaker emerged as the Great Hope taking second in the 100 yd. dash. Sophomore John Giamini placed fourth in the discus throw.

Throughout the season new records were set by Mark Flaker running a 9:09 100 yard dash and Jim Brocksmith turning in a two mile time of 9:32.7.

State school management endures in milestone year. The year 1977 was a milestone year for the state school system. It was the first time that the state school system had a budget surplus. This was due to a combination of factors, including a decrease in state spending and an increase in state revenue. The surplus was used to pay off state debt and to fund various state programs.

School board applies innovation in accomodating projected 7,800

Virtually no changes were present in the appearance or administrative structure of Hazelwood in 1973-74, but something unique was present — the realization that this was the final year of Hazelwood High School as we knew it.

In its twenty years Hazelwood had grown from a relatively small rural school to the largest high school in the state. But now, bursting at its seams, Hazelwood was bowing out in favor of Hazelwood Central, Hazelwood East, and Hazelwood West.

Those present who had watched Hazelwood grow looked on the change with both regret and anticipation. But all realized that a new plateau had been reached and that there were new educational fields to explore.

Although 74 seniors had never experienced a single-school Hazelwood, there was a sense of unity which was soon to end. A true extra effort seemed to be made toward excellence in all fields in order to give Hazelwood High School a fitting end — and hopefully, a great beginning.

Outside world Social Studies' teaching device

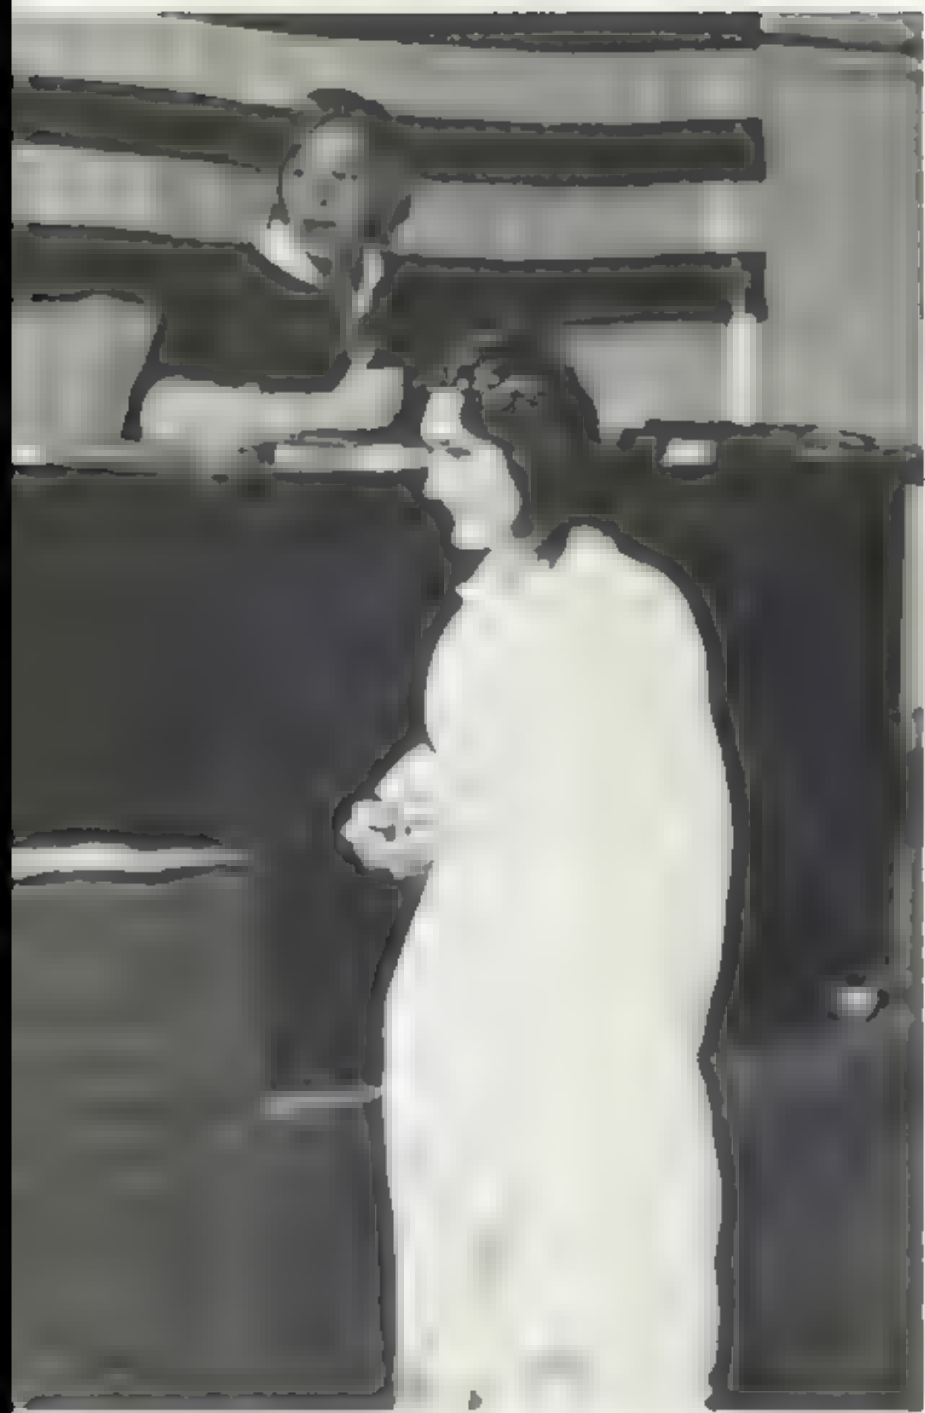

Classroom walls were not the boundaries of Social Studies courses this year. Field trips, situation games and a close-up look at Washington D.C., involved Hazelwood students in putting theory into practice.

This practice included games that introduced students to real-life situations such as racial tension, stock market dealings and foreign affairs, thus enabling students to relate classroom studies to their own lives.

Outside the classroom, a group of students sponsored through the Close-Up Foundation program, travelled to Washington, D.C., where they attended seminars and congressional sessions and toured the city.

Additional studies consisted of min-courses, psychological tests and mazes and guest speakers including a lawyer, judge, mayor and social worker.

Language arts made fun the HHS way

While dangling participles and run-on sentences will probably always plague English students, the serious business of language arts has been made fun the Hazelwood way.

Whether enrolled in the differentiated staffing program or in any of the 28 phase elective courses, language arts students were able to choose subjects according to individual interest and ability. The courses offered included everything from Sports and Cars in Literature to Seminar in Ideas.

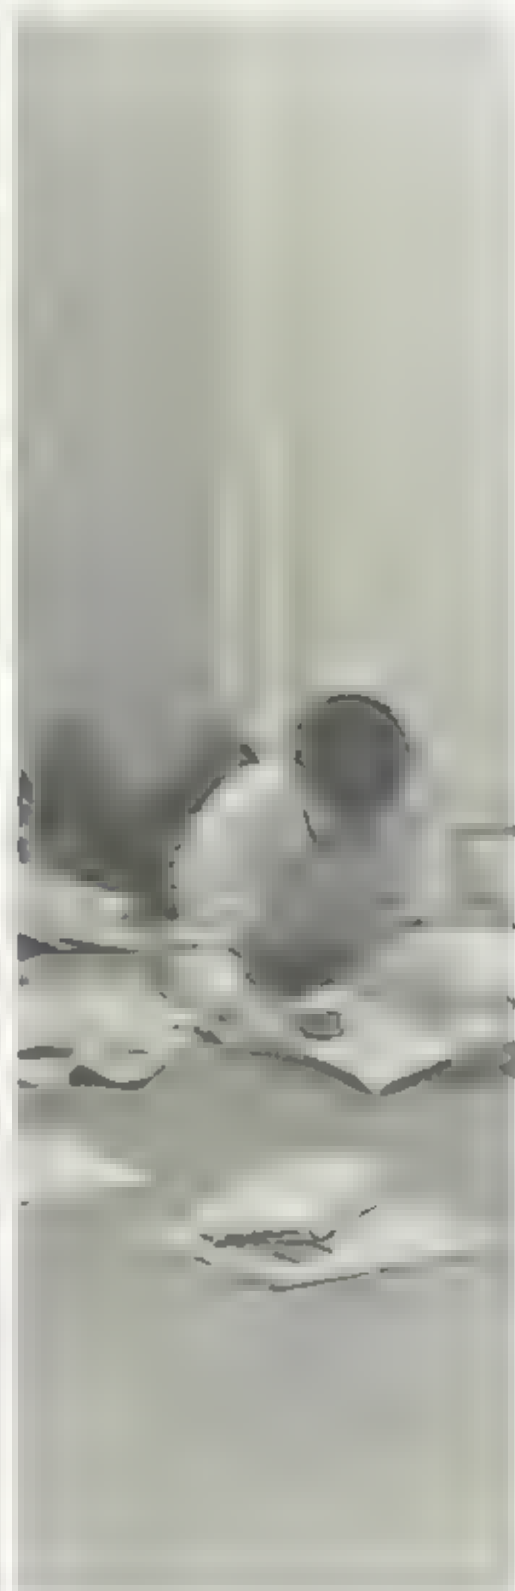

Even though programs continued to implement both the open and traditional classroom concepts, the language arts curriculum emphasized teaching the skills of oral and written communication and providing the fundamentals of literary understanding and appreciation.

Language study promotes understanding

Advanced transportation and the mass media have brought Americans closer to foreign neighbors than ever before. Because of increased exposure to different countries, cultural understanding has gained importance in the Hazelwood curriculum.

Over 925 students were introduced to the cultures of France, Germany, Spain, and ancient Latin speaking countries.

Since becoming a separate department from Language Arts last year, there seems to be more unity between members and departments," said Mrs. Kathie Vogt, department chairman. Next year students will have a better opportunity to fulfill their English requirements as Foreign Language will become a communications skill credit.

Field trips to various restaurants and the Art Museum were among the many activities available to participating students. Guest speakers played an important role in the program by informing students of their particular cultural background.

Spanish folk-dancing, skits performed in foreign languages, and foreign cuisine served to over 500 people made up the International Buffet planned and organized by the foreign language students.

Through class studies and special events, students found that foreign language is, as in the words of Mrs. Vogt, a passport to the world.

Changes in P.E. curriculum; Driver's Ed. uses proven technique

The era of change has come to the world of physical education.

Three new sub-units were introduced — body-building and handball for the male students, and co-ed golf

Sophomores were given a choice of two activities per quarter instead of the mandatory quarterly units as before.

Ninety-eight percent of all students who attended Hazelwood were enrolled in Physical Education. The remaining 2% took adaptive P.E. This was a modified program which enabled the student to do only those things which were recommended by a doctor.

In Driver's Education, learning through doing was the key to developing safe drivers. Approximately 1 750 students completed the course which included classroom instruction, simulation films, and on-the-road experience.

The location of the high school allowed students a variety of road types and conditions, from country roads to interstate highways.

Jo Higgins, the "Dodge Sheriff", spoke to an assembly of first semester Driver's Ed. students on safety. Throughout the year, the classes were visited by members of the Missouri Highway Patrol who explained laws governing Missouri highways.

Business ed. stresses work, college skills

In 16 Business Education courses 29 teachers stressed 3 important goals: the development of skills for college, the opportunity to work in a simulated business world and the chance to utilize business knowledge in practical situations.

Students found courses geared not only for the business bound but for those interested in other fields. From basic Typing I to technical Office Occupations, business courses provided for each student's needs.

Two clubs, D.E.C.A., open to D.E. students only, and F.B.L.A., open to all business students, contributed to the popularity of Business Education. Students in both clubs competed with students from other schools on local, state and national levels. Areas of competition included sales demonstration, shorthand, public speaking and marketing studies.

Concerts provide experience for student musicians

Over 800 students took advantage of Hazelwood's music curriculum this year. Singing and playing at concerts provided valuable experience in a pleasurable way.

Hours of practice paid off for the various choirs and bands as they performed at the Christmas and spring concerts, Project Fair, Pops and Pretzels Concert, and Variety Show.

The Hazelwood Golden Hawks Marching Band, a combination of Concert and Varsity Bands, reached the height of their marching season on Nov. 4 when they performed at Busch Memorial Stadium for the St. Louis Cardinals-Denver Broncos football game.

Two years ago, the Hazelwood Orchestra has only 10 people in spite of its size. It played at two concerts this year. The Orchestra visited district elementary schools to help persuade the children to take up a string instrument and join the Orchestra when they enter high school.

Six Hazelwood students proved to be outstanding musicians. Jane Kamp and Pam Hankins, both juniors and members of Concert Choir, were chosen to sing with the Missouri All State High School Choir. The choir consisted of students from all over Missouri and performed at the State Choir Director's Convention in Jefferson City.

Five Concert Band members, Ina Metzger, senior, Brenda Zoellner, senior, Laura Lafser, sophomore, and Vicki Smith, sophomore, were selected for the All-Suburban Band. The members of the band were chosen through auditions and played under the direction of W. Francis Macbeth, nationally known composer.

creative talents

Art being an expression of inner self, a sign of individuality could be found in many different types of courses designed to fill the needs of many individuals. Drama, speech, visual arts and fine arts aided students in discovering their untapped creative abilities.

Art I students helped St. Louis weather the energy crisis by painting the windows of the Marriott Hotel, during Halloween and Christmas to replace its elaborate lighting displays.

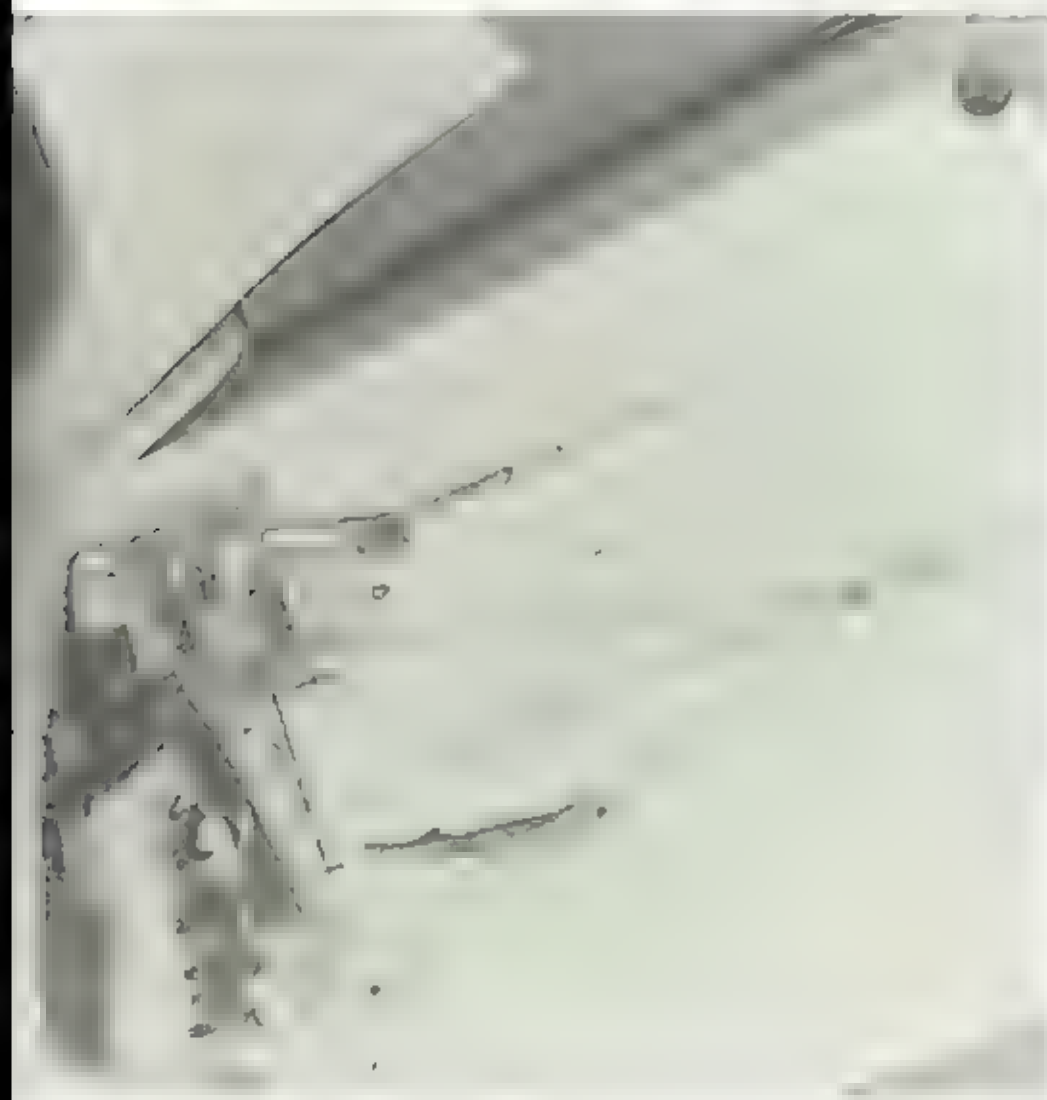

Four Fine Arts students received blue ribbons for their sketches which were displayed at the Scholastic Art Awards Exhibit sponsored by Famous-Barr. Their pieces then competed on a national level.

In Allied Arts classes students studied the literature, music, drama and art of significant historical areas.

Speech and debate students entered into competition with students from other area high schools and presented exhibitions of oral interpretation, public speaking, duet acting and poetry reading.

Some 2,600 males and females enrolled in the ten industrial arts courses that offered practical instruction in four different areas.

Skill and craftsmanship were brought about through application of drafting, woodworking, and metalworking basics. Logic and clear thinking were necessary to understand the fundamentals of electricity. Every student enrolled in an industrial arts course was required to complete at least one useful project.

The curriculum included three courses designed to teach the fundamentals of electricity, metalworking and drafting, and another six for more advanced students. One course specifically designed for girls taught the use of hand tools necessary to the future housewife.

Besides being instructive, the courses also proved to be rewarding.

Of the students who took a test to receive three hours of credit at Florissant Valley Community College, 96% received the credits.

Some of the best examples of workmanship were entered in the annual Project Fair.

Although the courses are not specifically vocational, they provide a good background for students planning to enter a trade after high school.

Home Ec. classes develop skills for tomorrow's needs.

Students enrolled in courses in Home Economics were taught today's lessons and tomorrow's needs to develop skills essential in establishing future homes.

A field trip to National Food Store enabled the foods classes to witness increasing food prices found in any normal food budget.

While the foods classes were getting a taste of food budgeting, the clothing classes were learning practical wardrobe planning.

Barbazon School of Modeling played an important part in current fashion design in the clothing classes this year. A young model visited Hazelwood and demonstrated techniques in fashion coordination.

With the shift in domestic roles becoming apparent in American society, the Hazelwood curriculum offered various home economics courses to both boys and girls.

Mathematics

Logical thought stressed in math studies

To prepare students for future problems in whatever careers they follow, the mathematics curriculum stressed logical reasoning and creativity.

Ten courses ranging from Functional Math to calculus were designed to emphasize logic, rather than just learning theory.

The Twenty-Fourth Annual Mathematics Exam was given at Hazelwood middle school students. The exam was given to students in taking calculus and algebra in many colleges and universities.

Another test sponsored by the University of Missouri at St. Louis gave students an opportunity to earn scholarships on local competition.

This year's math program centered around the individual and the

A 3x8 grid of 24 grayscale face images. The images show a variety of facial expressions and head poses. The first row shows neutral to slightly smiling faces. The second row shows more varied expressions, including some with glasses. The third row shows faces with different head tilts and expressions. The images are arranged in three rows and eight columns.

You wait to be a senior to put down the juniors and sophomores but there's more of them. It's like a curse that follows this class. (Paula Hubbard) It took me a day and a half and three schedules before I was registered. (Bill Simmons) Bomb scares are good because they always happen when I have a test. (Bill Heinrich) In certain classes you have to work hard, be efficient, and brownnose. (Gwen Hornetter)

I think the class of '75 is an alive group. I'm looking forward to being a senior. I like the idea of 3 schools in one, especially for the football teams. (What's the best class?) JUNIORS, of course!!!! (Pat Martinez)

A grid of 32 black and white portrait photographs of students, arranged in 4 rows and 8 columns. The students are of various ethnicities and are dressed in formal or semi-formal attire typical of the mid-20th century. The portraits are set against a light, textured background. The grid is organized as follows:
Row 1: 8 portraits of students, mostly with dark hair, some wearing collared shirts or sweaters.
Row 2: 8 portraits, including students with both short and long hair, some with bangs.
Row 3: 8 portraits, showing a variety of hairstyles and clothing, including a student with a prominent side part.
Row 4: 8 portraits, featuring students with different hair styles, including some with bangs and others with longer hair.
The overall composition is a formal yearbook-style grid.

More responsibility should be placed on the students. If one chooses to leave class or not even come to class, he should be responsible for what he missed, but no punitive measures should be taken against him (Kurt Blendort). I think the principals should be more understanding, you have to respect them and they have to respect you (Jo Ann Cicerelli). I'd like to be trusted to go to the bathroom (Deb Russell).

In the 1973-74 school year 5,400 individuals created the world of Hazelwood. I took its form through hard work, cooperation and a surprising sense of unity in an overflowing student population.

Its surface was ever changing, yet beneath this exterior lay a common theme: learning to cope with a society in turmoil, and through education, preparing to change it.

Major problems and conflicts occurred on local as well as national levels. Yet, this year should not be remembered as the year of shortages, of inflation, or of Watergate. Rather, 1973-74 should be remembered as the year Hazelwood students, along with all Americans, saw the weaknesses of their society and began building for a better future.
